

Constituencies where Reform UK are yet to confirm their candidate for the General Election

Background

As of 3rd June 2024, data from Democracy Club shows that Reform UK have selected candidates in 470 of 631 constituencies in Great Britain (excluding the Speaker's constituency), leaving 161 where a candidate is yet to be chosen.

Using 2024 constituency boundaries of these 161 seats there are 61 which the Conservatives won or would have won in 2019, based on Rallings and Thrasher notionals

Constituencies where Reform still haven't selected a candidate include some currently held by figures on the Tory right including;

- Simon Clarke, who announced in January that he had no confidence in the Prime Minister.
- Miriam Cates who rose to prominence last year after speaking at the 'National Conservatism Conference'
- Brendan Clarke-Smith who has been given a free pass by Reform UK's Lee Anderson who has announced he will not be campaigning in Bassetlaw.
